School Information

Proposed Model: Briefly describe the proposed school model and how this model addresses innovation in education.

The Virtual Preparatory Academy of Indiana envisions a learning experience that combines the best of online instruction with its capacity for individualized, self-paced learning. Our school will feature an innovative, interactive curriculum being taught by Indiana state certified teachers. Teacher-led instruction will be synchronous, asynchronous, one-to-one tutoring, and organized peer interaction through project-based learning. We will partner with our parents to insure they have the appropriate resources to support their student’s learning.

Parents will choose the Virtual Preparatory Academy of Indiana because it will offer a high quality and engaging curriculum, aligned to Indiana Standards. The Virtual Preparatory Academy of Indiana teachers will be trained in the known best practices in online instruction and will be provided flexible instructional tools that allow them to support all types of students. Parents and students will transition more quickly to online instruction due to the onboarding programs that are provided to both. The school will implement a continuous improvement model, listening to both parents and students while also supporting teachers in their instructional effectiveness.

The uniqueness of our school is an emphasis on project-based learning with students working together in a virtual world. We, as adults, are experiencing this shift of thinking and its implications of working in a virtual world that has minimized face-to-face interactions. Our students will learn how to use the same technologies that our teachers use in their instruction emphasizing both small and large group interactions. Virtual Preparatory Academy will partner with known national groups like Project-Lead-The-Way and Project Based Learning Works! to support its unique project learning focus.

Mission of Proposed Charter School: In one or two sentences, provide a clear statement that defines the purposes and nature of your school.
